Thesis: Our thinking and living must constantly be examined and realigned with God's word so that we will live biblically content lives by the incredible strength of God.

1. Two examples of how biblical thinking leads to biblical living (vs. 10).

A. Biblical thinking leads to biblical living in seeking to meet the needs of others (vs. 10a).

B. Biblical thinking leads to biblical living that frees us to believe the best about others (vs. 10b).

2. Biblical thinking and biblical living allows us to live with joy despite our circumstances (vs. 11-12).

A. Paul's example gives us hope (vs. 11).

B. Poverty and wealth both pose a danger to our thinking about God (vs. 12).

3. The strength of God will see us through (vs. 13)

Application:

1. Are you striving to love and serve others?

2. Where do you need the strength of God in your life?
